

EXPLORE LI

Restaurants

Parks

Beaches

Farm Stands

Kid Stuff

Marinas

Museums

Golf

Wineries

Lighthouses

COMMUNITIES

Block Island

Central Nassau

East Hampton

Fire Island/South Shore

Gold Coast

Huntington/Northport

Jones Beach/Long Beach

Montauk

Explore Long Island

TOP 5 Turkish restaurants on Long Island

BY JOAN REMINICK

Newsday Staff Writer

November 8, 2006

Talk Back: Post a comment

Some days, nothing quite hits the spot like a juicy kebab straight off the spit. The following five Turkish restaurants have a way with skewered meats, as well numerous other regional specialties.

Azer Baijan, 1610 Old Country Rd., Westbury - 516-228-0001 - Not an exclusively Turkish restaurant, this appealing Westbury dining spot showcases the fare of Azer Baijan, a region whose cuisine is strongly influenced by Turkey. Top Turkish dishes include the juicy, well-marinated char-grilled chicken chops and the kobideh kebab, skewered cylinders of ground lamb and beef. Grilled whole fish, a staple at most Turkish restaurants, is a winning choice.

Photo

